BULLET BLOCKS MEMORY.

Woman With one in Her Brain Forgets Suicide Attempt.

OAKLAND, Sept. 16.—With a bullet in the center of her brain, Mrs. Emily T. Cauldwell, of Riverhead, L. I. formerly a resident of Brooklyn, not only as well as she ever was, but also remembers nothing of her attempt two months ago to commit suicide.

When the puzzled doctors saw that she would live they declared she would be paralyzed and weak-minded, but she is entirely rational and the wound practically healed.

Within an hour after the shooting Mrs. Cauldwell was placed on a train and taken to the Seney Hospital in Brooklyn. Several times during the trip it was found necessary for the attending physicians to administer stimulants, she appearing to be dying.

An X-ray was used at the hospital to locate the bullet. It was in such a position that it was deemed dangerous to perform an operation.

Mrs. Cauldwell was then taken to St. Catherine's Hospital and then she began to recover rapidly.

Quite a sensation was caused by the tragedy. Mrs. Cauldwell shot herself in the presence of her sister, Mrs. Young, in the latter's home.

She talks interestingly of her hospital experiences, and her friends make no reference to the attempt made to end her life. It is believed the woman was temporarily out of her mind.

BIG ATHLETIC MEET.

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 16.—C. W. Mott, immigration agent of the Northern Pacific, today presented to Director General I. A. Nadeau of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition, plans for the greatest athletic carnival this country has known. Mott proposes the 1909 fair shall erect a stadium on the exposition grounds and plans be arranged for professional and amateur contests that will begin when the exposition opens and continue through the summer with a championship series between the American and National League ball clubs. Nadeau will recommend the plan to the exposition directors as the most feasible plan of giving some characteristic feature to the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition. If the program is carried out, every athletic club in the world will have a committee prepare for entries in both professional and amateur branches of every kind of sport.

PORTUGUESE TROOPS KILLED.

Punitive Expedition to South Africa Results Disastrously.

LISBON, Sept. 16.—An official message from Leanda, Portuguese West Africa, says that the Portuguese punitive expedition, which is marching on An-cango, has had several engagements with the Guamanhas during the past few days.

Nineteen of the European troops have been killed and five officers and 53 of the rank and file injured. The native troops in the Portuguese service have lost 43 killed.

TO BOOST TOBACCO PRICES.

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 16.—The Maryland Tobacco Growers' Protective Association and the Hartford County Growers' Association got together in East Hartford last night and pledged mutual support in an effort to drive up prices for Maryland and Connecticut tobacco and reap a little of the profit the growers say for the last few years has been going into the pockets of the tobacco combine.

CAUSES DEAF CHILDREN.

Marriage of Cousins Brings this Result, Says Educator.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 16.—Miss Mary S. Garrett, co-founder with her sister, Miss Emma Garrett, of the Home for the Training in Speech of Deaf Children Before they are of School Age, at Belmont and Monument avenues, returned from the international conference of the teachers of the deaf at Fédurg, to which she was a delegate.

It was at the request of the State Department in Washington that Miss Garrett decided to attend the meeting. When her report was handed to the department some interesting data will be known about deaf children.

Miss Garrett, who is active in the Civic Betterment Association and identified with other charitable organizations, devotes her life to the betterment of humanity, and of children especially.

The home near Fairmont Park was founded some years ago, and it is such a unique and more institution that official of the government who were interested in the Edinburgh conference asked her to attend as a delegate from the United States government.

Miss Garrett was so fatigued yesterday after her journey that she admitted she was not prepared to speak broadly on the subject which she will report to Washington, but she did say: "It may seem egotistical for me to say that Philadelphia has an institution so distinct in its ambitions that no other institution in the world can compare with it."

"There were about 300 delegates at the conference from all parts of the globe. Almost every government on this continent and abroad is interested in the welfare of deaf children, and much good will came of the Edinburgh convention."

"Nearly every delegate knew of our home, and I gave them sufficient data and information about the Philadelphia institution to start other homes of like nature. I understand our home is known all over the world because it is the only institution anywhere which takes children at tender years and teaches them to speak so they can attend public schools, in addition to giving them an ideal home training.

"The delegates agree that marriage of blood relations is a source of deaf children, and I hope that every state and country in the world will pass laws prohibiting marriage of first cousins."

"I can also say that I did not learn much which can be used to better this institution. My first report will be submitted to the State Department in Washington. Until then I cannot tell what I am going to write about. But the report will be interesting."

MARRIAGE FOLLOWS POSTAL.

Souvenir Leads Young Couple to Altar in Pennsylvania.

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Sept. 16.—A pretty home wedding this evening at Cata-sauqua was the result of a souvenir postal card engagement. The principals are John F. Tremler, a wealthy lumber dealer of Roxberry, Va., and his bride, Miss Lillian R. Loch, of Cata-sauqua.

When Tremler was a resident of Cata-sauqua some years ago he courted Miss Sadie Loch. Eight years ago he went to Virginia, but the letters that passed between Roxberry and Cata-sauqua soon grew less in number and finally ceased altogether. Eventually Sadie was wooed and won by another man, but Tremler, who became rich in his lumber enterprises, remained a bachelor.

Recently his former sweetheart's sister, Lillian, found some of Tremler's love letters in Sadie's bureau. In a spirit of fun she sent Tremler this message on a souvenir postal card:

"Sadie is married. How about you? Tremler replied that he was still single, but "open to engagements." As a result the pair began a correspondence which ended in tonight's wedding, his former sweetheart being one of the witnesses. The pair left on an extended wedding trip.

WEDDING SECRET A YEAR.

Santa Monica Man, at Birth of a Son, Tells of Marriage.

SANTA MONICA, Sept. 16.—Elton Pendleton, one of the best known business and society young men of the town, invited a score of his closest friends to a banquet at the Elk's Club tonight without stating the occasion for a celebration, and threw a bomb-shell of surprise among them by announcing that the feast was in honor of the birth of a son. He amazed them further by disclosing that he was secretly married a year ago to Miss Magnolia Moon, of Fresno, then 17 years of age and visiting friends here. She was the guest for a few weeks of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Cowen and Pendleton fell in love with her at first sight. He pressed his suit and a wedding speedily followed, without the friends of either knowing it.

Mrs. Pendleton and the baby are now in Fresno and he will join them tomorrow. They will make their home here where the romance caused wide interest to-night.

TO EXTERMINATE WILD CATS.

Nevadans Organize a Publicity Committee to Expose "Fake" Companies.

RENO, Sept. 16.—A reform wave is in progress here aimed at fake mining companies. The Nevada Publicity Committee intends immediately to begin a vigorous campaign for the purpose of driving all fake mining companies from the state as soon as possible. This is to be done so that legitimate mining companies may prosper, and that mining and business enterprises of merit may not be blackened by the veil doings of mining companies which exist only on paper, and which are promoted by men who would do nearly anything for money.

REPORTS COPPER.

Mining Engineer Tells of Big Ledge Near Cook Inlet.

SAN FRANCISCO Sept. 16.—Thomas Kimball Code a mining engineer just returned from Alaska, where he went for a syndicate to report on copper prospects, arrived in San Francisco yesterday.

Code brings a glowing report of a ledge half a hundred miles inland from Cook Inlet.

"I found," said he "extensive surface croppings and traces of a long ledge of sulphide of carbon in a limestone formation. At one point the ledge is 140 feet wide and it goes six per cent copper. I was able to follow the ledge for a mile, but it is partly covered with the slide. There are occasional outcroppings that seem to indicate that the ledge extends further."

"The location of the property is fifty-five miles inland from Iliamna Bay, on Cook Inlet. A railroad will have to be built to carry in materials and to bring out the crop to the coast. I think it could probably be smelted there on Cook Inlet."

HARRIMAN'S EYES ON DENVER.

Sends Man West to Watch Road Development in Colorado.

DENVER, Sept. 16.—E. H. Harriman has sent a personal representative here to watch the moves that are being made in this state looking toward railroad construction. It has been evident for some time that some interests have been at work planning large undertakings, but so quietly has the work been done that little information has reached the public.

In order to get the information at first hand, Mr. Harriman has sent K. H. Morey here to learn what is going on.

Mr. Morey has been investigating rumors of a new railroad through to Seattle. There have been several incorporated for that purpose. These include the Denver, Laramie & Pacific, the Denver & Pacific and the Denver & Transcontinental.
